

WALK ABOUT ZION TESTIMONIALS

I would like to thank Walk About Zion for putting together an itinerary that was jam-packed full of wonderful experiences, joyful fellowship times, and meaningful people. The extraordinary people that opened their homes for us to join them in celebration, dinner, and dancing will forever be in my heart.

I absolutely loved the whole experience; everyday was a God-given day to reflect on our lives and what they mean in perspective to the overall plan that He has for His people. I learned so much and had my eyes opened to the majesty and power of our Lord at work in the land of Israel! What an amazing experience to be part of something that was from the history of the Bible.

The countless times of fellowship and prayer really impressed the love of the Holy Land onto our hearts and minds. There was not a wasted moment of time; I love Israel! Forever grateful.

If you plan to visit Israel, make sure it's with Walk About Zion. You will have the travel experience of a lifetime and really "get into the trenches" with the land, the people, and the biblical sites of Israel. We had a wonderful and memorable time with our group of 40. As a side note, I've never felt safer anywhere in the world!

Walk About Zion covers every detail from a smooth flight itinerary to incredible Israeli meals to the finest of hotel accommodations. Be prepared for an action-packed, adventure! You will experience the carefully selected "must see" sights and activities for a Christian who wants to know their historical roots within God's loving plan for the world. The visits, tours, and experiences throughout Israel from old Jerusalem to the Sea of Galilee to Masada and everything in between were historically, biblically and spiritually fascinating. I've been on numerous trips throughout the world, but this 10-day trip with Walk About Zion is ranked amongst one of my most organized and finest adventures.

I recently took a trip to Israel with Walk About Zion. The trip turned out to be a trip of a lifetime. From great hotels, to special activities not typical of Israel trips, to a very personable and knowledgeable, hand-picked tour guide---I can't say enough good things about the trip. You will be blessed beyond measure to participate in a Walk About Zion tour.

Visiting Israel and exploring the Holy Land was a trip I dreamed about. Walking where Old and New Testament saints walked would be life-changing; my dream became a reality last month. I did not really know what to expect, yet whatever expectations I did have, Walk About Zion exceeded them exponentially. We visited many of the typical sites, plus not-so-typical wonderful sites and activities! Three of my favorites were having an anti-terrorism lesson with the IDF (Israel Defense Force) at Caliber 3, walking through the water in Hezekiah's Tunnel, and floating the Jordan River. We also had private teachings from a local policeman, pastor, Holocaust survivor, and a former assassin (which were amazing). I was pleasantly surprised by how much I enjoyed being on a tour bus with forty-three other passengers. The bus was very comfortable and our tour guide, Yoni, was exceptional! His knowledge of history and love for the land, mixed with his superb story telling capabilities made for an educational, as well as entertaining bus ride. The accommodations were wonderful. The hotel rooms as well as the elaborate breakfast and dinner buffets were beautiful. All the Israeli people we encountered were very friendly and helpful. Never did I feel threatened or in danger. After communicating with others who have visited Israel, I have to say the tours with Walk About Zion are by far the most unique, fun, and economical way to see the Holy Land. We did more activities and paid less. I highly recommend using Walk About Zion!

We just got back from our trip to Israel; I hope this is the first of many trips to come. At first, to be honest, Israel was not high on my bucket list of places to go to. I love to study the Bible, I love to travel, and I grew up in a wonderful Polish, Jewish community in the USA. So why wasn't it on the top of my bucket list? I think the idea of visiting a country whose neighbors are in constant turmoil was a bit unsettling.

However, I have a passion for loving any county with an ocean! Upon stepping off of the plane in Tel Aviv, one can smell the wonderful salt air of the Mediterranean which was God's way of saying, "See I told you so, you're going to love Israel!" The Israeli tour operator, tour guide and bus driver were gracious and incredibly patient as well as knowledgeable. All our accommodations were wonderful! We experienced Israel and its people in a way I had never thought possible! Historical and biblical sights came alive for me. Being able to sit overlooking the Sea of Galilee where Jesus and the disciples sat and read the Bible was life-changing! In Jerusalem, we stayed one night at the only Messianic kibbutz in Israel. What a wonderful educational and emotional experience that was! Midpoint in the trip we visited an archeological sifting site - another highlight of the trip. Our group found pottery shards from the early temple period, an Ottoman pipe shard, and many other pieces of history. Assisting an Israeli archeologist was truly gratifying! In the evenings, we attended talks given by local community groups and speakers, which helped me to understand the people of Israel and the Palestinians in a whole new way. I could go on and on, but perhaps the best thing I can say is GO to Israel and go with "Walk About Zion" if you want to experience the real Israel and the Israeli people. Hopefully I will meet you on some future trip!

I recently returned from a trip to Israel with Walk About Zion. Not only was there an amazing itinerary planned for us, it was executed it in such a way as to make it super fun as well as educational. And perhaps best of all, they were able to negotiate an unbelievably reasonable price for the entire package (half of what many other tours were advertised for!). Her chosen bus guide was funny, informative, fluent in Hebrew, and well versed in the background of every site on our excursion. Walk About Zion was conscientious about every detail with foresight, including ensuring any potential supplies were available should an unexpected need arise. Part of the success of the trip were the informative preparation meetings in the months before departure, and as a result everyone was well prepared and knew exactly what to expect in each situation -- even down to what to bring, how to handle money exchanges, and packing tips. Additionally, we were provided many maps and travel documents that helped us know where our sites were located, as well as significant biblical and historical events that occurred at specific places. The hotels and food (oh my gosh, the food!) were top notch the entire trip. Walk About Zion was always proactive, and when any issues occurred, they were handled efficiently and well. Lastly, many of us who were initially apprehensive about visiting Israel will testify that our unease was quelled to the point of feeling not the slightest danger during the entire trip. All in all, Walk About Zion did an impressive job in every aspect, and I'm hoping to be able join one of their tours again in the future!

The meticulous planning of our Israel trip enabled us to see more and do more than any others we have read about. Thank you so much for what you did for all of us! Our tour was an unforgettable trip of a lifetime! You have contributed to our spiritual growth as believers. Thank you for being the blessing you are!

To say that Israel is a life-changing experience is an understatement. Before I went to Israel, I researched, watched movies and films, and read many books. But to see the Holy Land in person and stand where so much history took place is mind boggling. It took me at least two weeks after I returned home to absorb what I seen and felt. People would ask me about Israel and I was at a loss for words. For me, human words cannot describe the Holy Land. This was my first time visiting Israel and I can't thank Walk About Zion enough for the most amazing trip of my life. Our days were filled with activities including walking through the many ruins that brought history to the current day. Walking where Christ walked, seeing the Temple Mount, touching the Western Wall, Masada, Jerusalem, Sea of Galilee, Peter's house in Capernaum, Caesarea Philippi, Abraham's gate, getting baptized in the Jordan River, riding camels... so many, many wonderful memories. The people of Israel are incredible and warm. The accommodations were first rate and the food delicious. I knew it would be life-changing; I just never expected it to have such an impact. Thank you Walk About Zion for a trip I will never forget. I can't wait to go again!

My trip to Israel was my first international adventure, and although I was a bit nervous about taking such a trip to what can appear as a hostile country, Walk About Zion eased my anxiety and assured me that it would be a trip of a lifetime and that our safety was their top concern. Walk About Zion provided an amazing adventure! The itinerary provided engaging history that brought everything full circle to me, and the total cost of the trip was so affordable for what we did and all the places we stayed! There was a great deal of thought put into the itinerary, as well as the additional optional activities. The detailed itinerary we received included an amazing keep sake journal/photo book that provided a complete guide of photos and explanations as well as a journal to take notes and reflect during and after each day's activities. For me, the details made it easier for me and I knew more of what to expect. It allowed me to be more prepared and even do additional research on my own with regards to the various selected destinations as well as the accommodations - which were all so delightful chosen as they highlighted each of the city's hospitality and culture. The variety of accommodations and food led to the uniqueness of this experience, and I have continued to indulge many of those delicious cuisines into my food choices now that I am back in the states. The many hours on the tour bus provided a circle of new friends. Our time was well spent and proved valuable, as our tour guide, Stan, not only shared much knowledge and history, he also made it entertaining! Deciding to go to Israel is certainly a big decision, and one that will mean something different to each person who takes the step to actually go. As you consider this once in a lifetime opportunity with Walk About Zion, know that you will be in excellent hands, will do amazing things, see people and go places you could never have imagined!

I highly recommend Walk About Zion tours. I traveled to Israel with my mom and brother in March 2016 and this trip surpassed all our expectations in every way possible. When comparing the cost of this tour to others, the prices were significantly less, yet didn't lack in quality. Our hotel accommodations were wonderful and comfortable, with bountiful and delicious breakfasts and dinners. There were no surprises or unexpected expenses throughout the tour. We enjoyed seeing many of the typical biblical and historical sites that, but also experienced some places and people that are not generally offered in other tours. Some of the unique sites and experiences were a jeep ride through the Golan Heights, singing Christmas carols in Bethlehem, viewing Israeli dancing and singing at the Western Wall on the Shabbat, and even riding a camel in Genesis Land while experiencing Abraham's hospitality. The boat ride on the Sea of Galilee was a spectacular event never to be forgotten. We danced and sang worship songs and were given a mini -concert by the boat captain, Daniel - a Messianic Jew. Our tour guide, Stan, who is a devout Christian, was most informative and knowledgeable, making our trip more interesting and meaningful. This tour was more than I could have ever imagined. A Walk About Zion tour is a "treasure" to be remembered and a "must" for anyone seeking a biblical Christian journey through the land of Israel.

I've been waiting 40 years to go to Israel (my #1 "Bucket List" item), but it was either too expensive or I would be the only single going. When our singles group at North Coast Church advertised a trip that Walk About Zion was organizing, I knew that this was it! It was an incredible deal. I thought we would be staying in flea bag hotels and eating mediocre food for that price, but we stayed at very nice places with delicious food. Our last five nights there were amazing! We stayed at an awesome hotel with the most amazing spread of food I've ever experienced. The tour was very well organized and the entire trip just "clicked." Looking back on my ten days there, we experienced all the major sites and more: a boat ride on the Sea of Galilee, the Western Wall as the Jews were celebrating the beginning of the Sabbath, standing on the same "Teaching steps" where Jesus stood in front of the temple mount, taking a tram to the top of Masada, riding a camel, floating on top of the Dead Sea, taking a jeep tour of the Golan Heights, walking the "Triumphant Entry" route singing and waving palm branches on Palm Sunday at the Mt. of Olives, and visiting Caesarea, Jericho, Capernaum, Mt. of Beatitudes, the valley of Megiddo (Armageddon), and lots of ancient ruins and excavation sites. For me, the highlight of the trip was Gethsemane and Golgotha - the empty Garden Tomb followed by communion. There were only a few optional activities not included in the trip price. I went on a 1,300 ft long (400 feet off the ground) zipline, and I got to fire a rifle with Israel Defense Forces! Almost everyone in our group participated. The only thing I regretted was not getting baptized in the Jordan River (next time!). I felt totally safe my entire time there. Ten days of fantastic fellowship! If you have never been to Israel (and you're a Believer), you should go, and go with Walk About Zion!

It has been almost two weeks since we returned from our trip to the Holy Land. The months of anticipation have now become wondrous reflection on the entire experience. The organization of this trip was outstanding, and what we saw, experienced and lived will be with us forever. Where does one start to describe our experience? Each day with experience on top of experience - was made enriched by the comprehensive organization of Walk About Zion and our tour guide, Yoni. My expectations going into the trip were to see and experience biblical history, to walk where the giants of the faith walked, to see the land they saw. That expectation was met fully, the sites, the times of worship and singing... it didn't stop challenging the mind and driving us further into the Word to read again with fresh eyes and mind the wonder and gift of scripture. But what I didn't anticipate was what we learned of the culture and people. We met ex-Muslim in Jericho and listened on the edge of chairs to how Jesus transformed him, a sniper terrorist for Yasser Arafat and the PLO, to love and minister to all, both Jews and Muslims in this land. We listened to the Israeli police spokesman, Micky Rosenfeld, describe life there, the constant threat of terrorists and how they deal with it and keep the people, including us tourists, safe. We saw and learned from the Caliber 3 experience how the IDF deals with training to defend the land, took a jeep tour of the Golan Heights and heard first-hand how the people in that area deal with the tension. We heard from Pastor Steven Khoury, an Arab pastor in ministering in Jerusalem, and Rami Fellemon an Egypt-born Arab, Palestinian Christian, raised and living and ministering in Old Jerusalem through Jerusalem Evangelistic Outreach...all this opened our eyes and hearts to the struggles of this region, and those who live here, and the massive need for prayers for all in this region that the love of Christ would drive out all hatred and distrust, and especially our brothers and sisters in Christ who daily live here in tension while trying to live out what Christ calls them to do. It was a wakeup call to be more fervent in our prayers for all God's people. One could go on, but Walk About Zion made it all possible, and by the grace of God we all are changed.

God spoke to Abraham in Genesis and said, "I will bless those who bless you and whoever curses you, I will curse; all peoples on earth will be blessed through you." This recent trip to Israel with Walk About Zion helped to give me a heart for the Jewish people, and passion to support and bless them. I loved how so many great sites and experiences were included, with a mission's passion. The most powerful experience for me on the entire trip was going to the Western Wall at Shabbat. I was able to pray at the wall with Jewish women on either side crying out to God in Hebrew.... they long for God's help but don't know the Messiah. (This is the closest Jewish area to the former Holy of Holies, as Muslims now have the Dome of the Rock area where temple stood). I was surprised to find out that Jews are not even allowed to pray at the Dome of the Rock (on Muslim ground), and if they do, it is punishable by law. Being in Jerusalem was surreal, electrifying. There is so much history there, so much more to come in the end times. Just being there was indescribable. Going through the Holocaust Museum stirred my heart again for the Jewish people. It broke my heart to read that they believe that the Christians started the Holocaust. It was also heartbreaking to really understand how many countries persecuted the Jews, and to hear personal stories of many survivors (on video). Another amazing experience was the Golan Heights jeep tour led by a former special forces IDF soldier. We were able to look out over the Syrian border. We were told and could see with our own eyes why the Golan Heights is such a strategic place for Israel to keep, even though our government has recently criticized Israel for saying that they will never give up the Golan Heights. It is said (by Joel Rosenberg) that the Golan Heights will eventually become ground zero in the war of Magog and Gog in the end times. This trip has inspired me to do my own research (thanks to the Walk About Zion recommended reading list) and study about those who seek to destroy Israel and who deny that Israel has the right to exist. It is interesting to note that the Arab states surrounding Israel are 650 times the size of the small country of Israel, but many want Israel destroyed! This trip has been an eye-opening experience to say the least! A huge thank you to Walk About Zion who took us on this trip of a lifetime!

Walk About Zion was instrumental in getting our church group of 44 to Israel at a bargain price. Many of us were going for the first time. In addition to seeing the normal biblical-historical sites, they arranged for us to meet a wide array of people, representing the diversity of language, culture and faith in the Holy Land. Every day included 3-5 "wow" moments which, collectively, made for one of the most unique and inspiring trips we've ever taken. Normally, when you get back from extended travel, a typical reaction is, "Whew! We need to rest!" But, in this case, we can't wait to get back. It's that poignant of a trip. In addition to the life-changing experience of "walking where Jesus walked," I'd have to say that Walk About Zion did a fabulous job in ensuring that we stayed at the nicest of places at the best prices. The trip was quite a bargain and certainly cost less than many that we've taken for less time, just in the U.S. But to experience the land of the Bible for yourself, to get an appreciation for what life was like then and now, to meet a wide array of fascinating people, to get close to the people on both sides of the conflict in the Near East was absolutely fascinating -- something every believer should do at least once in their lifetime. And the tour guide, Yoni

Simmons, was absolutely the best! He knows his history, is a great story teller, and has become a good "Facebook" friend!

Peter and I had a marvelous trip with members of our church. I was particularly touched to have seen Tel Dan, where Moses' grandson set up the idolatrous worship center. Between that and learning to shoot with the IDF, sifting earth that the Muslims bulldozed out from under the Temple Mount when they built their Mosque, lazing in the Dead Sea, riding on camels and jeeps, hiking in and out of Petra ---the trip was amazing. We also had the chance to fellowship with Israeli believers in a variety of places. They lead a very difficult life there. I also had several God-ordained meetings and will be following up on them in prayer and via email. The trip was well-organized, comfortable and packed with fascinating trips and activities. The guide was knowledgeable, friendly and flexible, working closely with the travel agency for a virtually glitch-free visit. I'd definitely recommend Walk About Zion to anyone eager to experience the glorious diversity of the Holy Land.

I just wanted to say thank you to Walk About Zion for all of the hard work in preparing and planning this wonderful Israel trip. As a pastor, it was such a blessing for me to walk where Jesus walked and to see the sites mentioned in the Old Testament. Seeing Israel for myself was like upgrading from black and white TV to color. I was also very touched by the time we were able to spend with Messianic Jews. While vocal here in the United States, I never thought about what Messianic Jews face in their own homeland. From the impromptu singing, to the on-the-fly fellowship, to the worship times we shared together, this was surely a blessing for all of us. Thank you again.

Each day was unique, packed with history, teaching, and gorgeous locations. It was so wonderful to be whisked from place to place in a timely manner to be able to see where Jesus lived, taught, died, and rose. The evening local guest speakers contributed fresh contemporary perspectives as well. Yoni, our guide, was so energetic, loveable, knowledgeable, and well spoken. Walk About Zion planned so many fascinating experiences in addition to the religious sites. The jeep trip to the Golan Heights, the night at a country kibbutz, shopping in the Old City, En Gedi, Masada, etc. were phenomenal! The accommodations were clean, comfortable, and elegant. We slept well every night. I have never eaten so many healthful, flavorful and unique dishes. Seeing the Jewish people: on the airplane, at the Western Wall, serving in hotels, the military young people, etc. awakened an even greater longing in me for them to know their Messiah; I frequently found myself praying and burdened for them. The Holocaust Museum likewise broke my heart to think of how much demonic hatred never ceases to plague God's chosen people. I long for the day when their eyes are opened, and they are healed. I pray that they will know the Prince of Peace who will give the peace of Jerusalem! We're going back now using our itinerary and rereading the travel guide, "Israel for the Christian Traveler." We are able to visualize each location and remember many of the corollary teachings and experiences. Jim and I began reading the gospel of John during the trip. Truly, scripture took on 3D dimensions! Walk About Zion has given us a priceless gift...which we can never repay!

I love to travel and particularly to travel with a purpose. Having been throughout much of Europe and on a few Christian history tours, I was looking forward to my first experience in Israel. This trip far exceeded my expectations! It was a deeply meaningful trip as we traveled the steps of the saints from scripture who have gone before us. Singing on the Sea of Galilee brought to memory all our Lord taught as He stood on the shores of this very lake and walked on its water and calmed its storms. Each day of the tour was entirely different from the day before. One day on a jeep ride through the beautiful Golan Heights, stopping to step inside a bomb shelter with Syria just a few miles in the distance; then laughing and splashing our rafts down the Jordan River. And another day, I will never forget seeing the caves of Ein Gedi and considering the psalms of David that were written as a result of his days of hiding in the rocks. There are places in Israel such as Masada that you can never fully appreciate or begin to comprehend until you stand on that mountaintop and feel the despair of that time in history. And then there was the incredible walk through Hezekiah's tunnels. Worship on the Sabbath day with the messianic congregation was a glimpse of heaven where people of every tongue and tribe unite at the throne of the King. If you want every day to be packed full of new and varied adventure, you won't find anything better! I had been contemplating a trip to Israel for years, but when I saw this itinerary, I knew this was THE trip. Unforgettable memories!

Visiting Israel with Walk About Zion and our church group was a fabulous, amazing experience. The tour was well organized and highly illuminating. The Lord answered all our prayers that things would run smoothly. Contrary to media reports, we felt safe in Israel. In fact, different speakers explained the security policies that have increased safety in recent years. The food, accommodations, and shopping opportunities were excellent - exceeding our already high expectations. Agriculture abounds in Israel, and the variety of salads, breads, meats, fruits, wines, and other dishes were amazing. We stayed right on the Sea of Galilee and the Dead Sea! But best of all was actually being at biblical sites and hearing explanations of the language, culture and history from knowledgeable, articulate guides and speakers. Our main guide, Yoni, shared his knowledge with a native Israeli's insight and charm. Now we are able to visualize the whole layout of the land of the Bible. We actually walked where Jesus walked and even sang in the synagogue where He taught in Nazareth. We sailed in a boat on the Sea of Galilee and climbed the hill where He taught the beatitudes. Now we know the significance of places like Megiddo and the Golan Heights - because we've been there. We heard speakers from all sides of the current political situation, so we gained a first-hand perspective. We formed bonds of friendship, especially with other Christians living in Israel. Another highlight was hearing Gabriela Danieli and her friend play the harp and sing in her home overlooking the Sea of Galilee. Because we received so much for what we paid, this trip was an exceptional value. We would recommend this tour to anyone interested in understanding our world better and in having the experience of a lifetime.

Thank you for “taking” us to Israel. Ted and I had a wonderful time with everyone. We are sad it’s over. It was unbelievable to see so many sights and experience culture, people, food, adventures and fun. Thank you for planning every detail so perfectly. It was amazing to think back on what we saw each day. Yoni was a great story teller and guide. His grasp of facts and biblical history was great. And we appreciated his sense of humor and patience with us all. We saw so many things we didn’t see on our first visit and participated in adventures that made it all the more special. Experiencing the Jordan on a raft, while seeing families picnicking on the banks of the Jordan River was great.... We loved the jeep ride. It was amazing to get an update from Ilan and to see Syria and the Damascus Road. I love how the families in their beautiful Kibbutz in the Golan Heights live “normally” in defiance of the dangers they face daily. All of the hotels were luxurious and comfortable, and in fabulous locations. We loved being on the Sea of Galilee and swimming every morning. The food was also amazing. You couldn’t have chosen better accommodations and restaurants. The dinner in the Holy City was truly lovely. Sitting outside, looking at ancient walls in the breezy patio was magical. Best of all was visiting so many meaningful places. The ancient synagogue in Magdala, Bethlehem, the Mount of Beatitudes, Caesarea Philippi, Caesarea Maritima, Nazareth Village, Ein Gedi, and Masada were all incredible. And the travel guide was fabulous too. The Lord has given Joan Peace a real gift in her ability to write out the significance of each place and organize the book and trip so that others can experience what she loves so much. There’s no way to thank Walk About Zion enough for everything they did to create a trip of a lifetime for us all.

As difficult as it may sound, the plans for this trip began in the fall of 1987 when my husband and I first met. Twenty-eight years later, Walk About Zion helped make our plans to travel to Israel become a reality. What we experienced on our trip to Israel FAR exceeded our expectations! What made the trip so incredible for us was the variety of options provided on the itinerary. Some of our favorite memories included the jeep ride through the Golan Heights, assisting archaeologists find old artifacts at the Temple Mount Sifting Project, walking through Hezekiah's Tunnel singing praise songs, worshipping our Lord with Messianic captain Daniel on the boat ride on the Sea of Galilee, and kayaking down the Jordan River. In addition to visiting the historical sites, we had several opportunities to hear guest speakers share the various ways they are ministering to the people of Israel. Hearing the testimony of how God is working in the life of Tass Saada, a former Muslim who worked for Arafat was so moving. We'll never forget! Another highlight of the trip included worshipping with our Israeli brothers and sisters at Grace and Truth Church. This unique opportunity provided us with an opportunity to witness the pastors of our church preach a sermon to an Israeli congregation while their Pastor, David Zadok translated in Hebrew. Attending a worship service at a Messianic Jewish congregation is something other group itineraries do not always offer. If you are considering taking a trip to Israel, I highly recommend going with Walk About Zion. The diverse itinerary, the cost of the trip, hotel accommodations, and the fabulous tour guides help make your experience of traveling through the Holy Land a life-changing experience.

Thanks so much for setting up our trip to Israel. My biggest fears about going to Israel were the cost and safety while there. I don't know how you packed so much in our trip for the amount that we paid. Hotels and food were top-notch. We had some fun time to rest between seeing the Biblical sites. Stan our guide was so personable and informative. I could have listened to him for hours; he is a great man of God. Two places that really changed my life were the worship cruise on the Sea of Galilee and our visit to the Western Wall. The worship cruise was such a beautiful time of worship and feeling God's presence - on the Sea of Galilee!! Truly amazing! Our visit to the Western Wall was very emotional for me. Just knowing the history, the triumphs and sorrows of the Jewish people and standing at the wall brought out such an increased love for Israel that it made me cry for their country. As for safety, at no time did I find myself fearful. Walk About Zion is so good at finding the right people for guides and the right places to visit that I look forward to joining them for another trip to Israel. Thanks again for helping make this such a memorable trip.

My heart and head are so full since returning from Israel. To say that the trip was "special" is inadequate. It was fascinating, full, fun, and (in a good way) frustrating, because the past and present circumstances of the Land are so complex. And the Walk About Zion tour uniquely introduced us to that wonderful complexity. We saw layers and layers of historical sites. We were moved by accounts of our Lord Jesus as we read scripture in the very places where He spoke. We met Israelis and Palestinians working towards peace, and our hearts were stirred to pray for them both. Because of Walk About Zion's terrific planning, the beauty and diversity of the land remains with me, and I have a greater admiration for the people who fiercely treasure it.
